

Executive Proclamation

Office of the Governor

Whereas, On May 19, 1953, KELOLAND Television became the first television station in South Dakota; and,

Whereas, KELOLAND Television has served the citizens of South Dakota for 60 years providing news, weather, sports, and important statewide information and is an advocate for improving the quality of life in the state; and,

Whereas, The station was the first and only television station in South Dakota to purchase a Live Doppler radar network to better protect the state from severe storms; and,

Whereas, KELOLAND Television has always stayed on the forefront of technology to better serve viewers on television and digital platforms; and,

Whereas, South Dakota businesses have used KELOLAND Television's tremendous reach to grow and expand their businesses; and,

Whereas, KELOLAND Television is the only commercial television station to serve the entire state and has served South Dakota in emergency situations and provided life-saving information for 60 years:

Now, Therefore, I, Dennis Daugaard, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim May 19, 2013 as

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Sixteenth Day of April in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Thirteen.

Dennis Daugaard
